- AR technology brings users the chance to experience an augmented world by overlaying virtual information in the real world. This way the user can be in touch with both the real and virtual world and receive real-time data or statistics.
- For industry 4.0, this can have several advantages. It can be the perfect way to represent relevant information for technicians and workers in the company, allowing them to watch real time information from the work they are performing.
- Most companies have begun to understand that the data generated by these groups can be harnessed to identify new channels of revenue, and have already made advances in tapping into this data to maximize their operational efficiency.

Key messages, outcomes, recommendations

- An e-payment system is a way of making transactions or paying for goods and services through an electronic medium, without the use of checks or cash. It's also called an electronic payment system or online payment system. Read on to learn more.
- The electronic payment system has grown increasingly over the last decades due to the growing spread of internet-based banking and shopping. As the world advances more with technology development, we can see the rise of electronic payment systems and payment processing devices. As these increases, improve, and provide ever more secure online payment transactions the percentage of check and cash transactions will decrease.

Theme: Smart Manufacturing Practices with Bio mimicry

Speaker: Gyana Ranjan Mallik, Team Leader R&D , Fowler Westrup India Pvt. Ltd, Malur

Participants: Third& Final Year, EEE/ ECE, Students

Key messages, outcomes, recommendations

- Biomimicry does not usually mean the direct transfer of an observation in nature to the development of a product, but rather the creative implementation of biological concepts into products.
- This application consists of using form/shape language from nature to create aesthetically pleasing products. It is used in design projects with a strong art-component.
- This implies that the designer in every project must contemplate whether biomimicry is the right way to go about finding the solution to her specific problem.
